

12/4/13

The Honorable Bernie Sanders, Chairman,
U.S. Senate Committee on Veterans Affairs
412 Russell Senate Building
Washington D.C. 20510

Dear Chairman Sanders:

My Case.

I am a 26 year veteran of active/reserve duty in the United States Air Force facing open-heart surgery in less than a month to repair a severe prolapse of the posterior mitral valve leaflet which occurred as the result of my service. Severe mitral regurgitation is present, an immediate life-threatening condition.

The symptoms are consistent with exposure to spread-spectrum millimeter EM radiation in the terahertz range that are well known to a few elusive, presumably D.O.D. doctors.

My complete medical records are being kept from both civilian and local VA doctors due to their "classified" status and my service record was altered in an attempt to allow the VA to deny me benefits and treatment. Arizona Senator John McCain was instrumental in returning my date of service, but has been denied access to my complete records through his FOIA request.

Nationwide VA scandal.

It would appear that my case is the tip of an iceberg of Veterans Administration policy to 'classify' veterans medical records and thus deny them benefits and proper treatment.

CNN recently reported on the delays to treatment of veterans and the Veterans Administration's contempt for congressional oversight. CBS has picked up the story. In my case the VA blew off myself, the Arizona Department of Veterans Affairs and Senator McCain in order to keep something about my medical records secret. Frontline has done an extensive documentary on the explosive growth of secrecy in America.

The delay and denial by the Veterans Administration of proper treatment of legitimate veterans disability claims is a national disgrace.

A plea for action.

I believe my case may be the key to uncovering an even more perverse policy on the part of the VA -- classifying medical records to hide medical issues caused by service, some of which can result in terminal condition on part of the patient.

I urge the Committee on Veterans Affairs to launch a full fledged investigation of Veterans Administration policy on classifying medical records in order to hide known life and health threatening effects of various weapons, including Agent Orange in Vietnam and certain very high frequency radar and electronic weaponry in development and use during the Cold War and later.

You can find a press release with complete details of my case at:

CNN is right. Life threatening issues are being addressed by the VA with delay and denial. This is not a just policy in a country I served to defend and protect.
